BRODIE DUKE SEEKS DIVORCE.

HAS HAD ALICE WEBB WATCHED SINCE THEY PARTED.

Papers Served on Her on Friday as She Was Entering the Bijou Theater-She Tried to Serve Him With Summons in Separation Suit, but Job Was Bungled.

The spectacular troubles of Brodie L. Duke, the North Carolina tobacconist, and his wife of a few months. Alice Webb Duke, took on a new phase on Friday Duke, while attending the Bijou Theater, was served with papers in a suit for absolute divor e.

The marriage of Mrs. Webb and Mr. Duke, on Dec. 19 last, after a somewhat peculiar courtship; the commitment of Mr. Duke as an insane person on an order issued by Justice Truax; his removal from the Park Avenue Hotel, where he was living with his bride, to Bellevue Hospital, where $20,000 in bonds and a large amount in cash were found on his person; his subsequent transfer to Sanford Hall Sanatorium, in Flushing and his release were spread before the public at much length from day to day as the events developed.

Mr. Duke has tacitly admitted the legality of the marriage contract, which at first it was intended should be attacked as void on the round that Mr. Duke was not in a condition to make such a contract. Of his new suit his lawyer, Champe S. Andrews, said yesterday:

"I regret very much that the fact has been made public that Mr. Duke has brought suit or divorce. Now that it has become public, however, I can only admit that it is quite true. It is also true that his family have dropped all proceedings against Mr. Duke.

From the time Mrs. Duke left New York we heard from her from time to time. The files of the newspapers will give a pretty correct report of her movements, I believe. She went to New Or.eans, I am informed, then e to Texas and thence to Chicago. She arrived here in New York only a short time ago, and on Friday evening the papers were served upon her. The papers in the case have not yet been filed, but the trial, if there is a trial, will take place here in New York.

Three days ago in Durham, N. C., the three original notes given by Mr. Duke to Mrs. Duke in connection with some alleged tobacco lands transaction, in which she purported to be engaged, were presented at the Durham bank for conection. Of course they were not paid. They represented a total of about $15,000. There were two sets of these notes. The first were fiven to Mrs. Duke by Mr. Duke, and kept by her for a time, when she obtained duplicates made out so as to be more readily negotiable by her. Payment of this se ond group of notes was enjoined by the courts. We heard nothing of the first group until they turned up at Durham this week, as I have said.

"We had our choice of proceeding against Mrs. Duke either for annulmer t of the marriage or for divorce. We chose the divorce method as the simpler and more direct. Mrs. Duke's movements have been kept under pretty close supervision, and the Mrs. Duke in connection with some alleged method as the simpler and more direct.

Mrs. Duke's movements have been kept under pretty close supervision, and the particular case we have chosen to bring the proceedings upon is her conduct in the early part of May on a sleeping car on the Grand Trunk Railway. I have heard nothing from the defer dant in this case or from her coursel since the papers were served upon her."

Those who were acting for Mr. Duke found out some time ago through telegrams from Chicago that she was coming to New York. It was articipated that she would communicate with her lawyers. The offices of Levy & Unger were watched and on Thursday last she appeared there. From that time on she was trailed until Friday evering, when, accompanied by arother woman, she wert to the Bijou Theater. Just as she extered the vestibule the papers were handed to her. She became very much excited, weeping loudly ard apparently being on the verge of hysterics. She ently being on the verge of hysterics. She the theater, where she sat through the play.

Abraham Levy, of the firm of Levy & Unger, said vesterday that Mrs. Duke called at his office on Thursday and wished him to go on with certain business which. this to some on Intursical and wished him to so on with certain business which, for the time, Mr. Levy declined to do.

"I know nothing about the divorce proceedings except what I have heard from outside sources," said Mr. Levy yesterday.

"Mrs. Duke has not been here since Thurstone have we heard from her in our hard was been here in the process."

"Mrs. Duke has not been here since Inursday, nor have we heard from her in any way since then."

After Mr Duke was released from the sanatorium he went to Asbury Park. All the time he was there he was under the surveillance of alienists, who were ready to testify at the end of the three months constants between the land of the three months constants. testify at the end of the three months constant observation of him at Asbury that he was entirely of sound mind. His disappearance from Asb ry was sudden and dramatic. While he was there Mrs. Duke through Leve & Unger, undertook to institute proceedings against him for a legal separation and alimony. Mr. Duke was under strict instructions from his lawyers to receive no papers whatever.

He was living at the Marlborough Hotel and when the process server from Levy & Unger arrived was at dinner in company with a physician who was constantly with him. The process server gave the papers, with a physician who was constantly with him. The process server gave the parers, which were in a sealed envelope, to the head waiter. The head waiter handed the carvelope to Mr. Duke who, without looking at it, handed it to the physician. The physician saw the firm name, "Levy & Unger," on the envelope. He but the envelope in his pocket and told Mr. Duke to get out of the dining room and out of the hotel as soon as possible and to use back doors in both exits. This Mr. Duke did and from that time on the Mariborough Hotel knew him no more. He and the physician vanished from Asbury that night and have never been there since.

physician vanished from Asbury that night and have never been there since.

"If that process server had been from our office," said Mr. Levy yesterday, "those papers would have been served. We had to rely on local talent and the service failed."

Mr. Tuke is now living entirely stone.

Mr. Duke is now living entirely alone, so far as his family are concerned, in his large and very costly mansion in Durham.

TORNADO-SWEPT CITY FLOODED.

Snyder. Okla., Recovering From the Windstorm. Has Another Severe Setback. SNYDER, Okla., June 3.-This city, which is just recovering from the effects of the tornado which swept hundreds of homes by a cloudburst which has turned the wreck strewn townsite into a lake. Scores of people, who a few weeks ago lost their homes and families, are to-day batting against the water, and women and children are being rescued from floating houses and taken to places of safety. It is not yet known whether there has been any lose of life.

The food will cause much suffering, as the commissary department established for the relief of the tornado victims has been flooded and the food supply is ruined. News of this second misfortune has been sent out and assistance is expected from the ad-panies by Fraudulent Transfers. General Superintendent Albert H. Stanley of the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey said yesterday that several conductors and others not connected in any way with the trolley service have confessed to the part they have taken in the wholesale plot to cheat the company by means of the use of fraudulent transfer tickets. Some of the confessions were made when the dishonest persons discovered that a web had been woven around them by detectives engaged in unearthing the frauds. The confessions, it is understood, materially assisted the investigators in learning the identities of some of the principal persons in the conspiracy.

Mr. Stanley said that the Public Service Corporation wasn't the only company that has suffered at the hands of dishonest employees with the connivance of outsiders. He says the same system of robbery extends to many trolley lines in the country.

"Our investigations," he said, "show that the conspiracy takes in at least two of the prominent steam roads here and n the East.

LYNCHING. AROUSES GOVERNOR. Mob Strings Up a Negro Who Killed a White

Man by Aceldent. NEW ORLEANS, June 3 .- Gov. Blanchard to-day telegraphed to the Sheriff and District Attorney of Pointe Coupee parish. calling upon them for a full report regarding the lynching of the negro Henry Washington at Morgansea, and ordering them his determination to bring to justice the men engaged in the lynching.

The trouble arose over a quarrel between a band of negro musicians from Natchez, Miss., and a negro on the Lecour plantation. The latter feared that the musicians would waylay and attack him and induced his employer, krnest Lacour, to protect him on his way home. The five musicians did waylay him and, firing on him, killed Lacour by mistake. The negroes were arrested at Morgansea.

A mob of several hundred men broke into the jail and took Washington, who is supposed to have fired the shot, and hanged him from a tree. There was a disposition at first to hang all the negroes, but the other four members of the gang were spared and turned over to the parish jail at New Roads. The negroes claim that the killing of Lacour was an accident.

DROWNED IN CRANBERRY LAKE. Edward Roys. a Boston Lumber Merchant.

Loses His Life While Fishing. UTICA, June 3 .- News reached here today of the drowning Thursday in Cranberry Lake, in the Adirondacks, of Edward Roys, a lumber merchant of Boston, Mass. Mr. Roys, in company with C. IV. Manning of New York, also a lumber merchant, went into the York, also a lumber merchant, went into the woods and stopped at Nunn's Inn. Thursday, in company with Archie Howland, a guide, the two men started on a fishing trip. They had proceeded about five miles from the inn and were fishing on John's Pond, when the boat capsized and they were thrown into the water. Manning and Howland started to swim for the shore and with some difficulty reached land. Roys, who was an excellent swimmer, took only a few strokes and then sank. His body was recovered.

REV. DR. THOMAS RICHEY DEAD

27 YEARS IN GENERAL THEOLOGI-CAL SEMINARY FACULTY.

Three Years Ago the Trustees Asked Him to Resign on Account of His Age and Infirmities, but He Wouldn't and Didn't -Emeritus Professor When He Died

The Rev. Dr. Thomas Richey, emeritus professor of ecclesiastical history at the General Theological Seminary, died yesteriay at his apartments in Chelses Court, at he age of 73.

Dr. Richey was born on Nov. 1, 1831, in Newry, Ireland. He attended the General Assembly College in Belfast and Queen's College in the same city, and came to the United States when he was about 19 years of age. He was graduated from St. James's College at Hagerstown, Md., and from the General Theological Seminary with the class of '54. The same year he was ordained as deacon. Some years afterward Union College gave him the degree of doctor of divinity. From 1854 until 1858 Dr. Richey was rector of St. Luke's Church, Catskill, N. Y. He left St. Luke's to go to Mount Calvary at Baltimore, where he remained until 1862. For the following two years he was warden of St. Stephen's College at Annandale, N. Y. He was professor of ecclesiastical history at the Seabury Divinity School, Faribault, Minn., from 1869 until 1878. His connection with the General Theological Sominary as a member of the faculty dated from 1878, when he was made professor of ecclesiastical history. In May, 1902, Dr. kichey, who was then past seventy years of age, was asked to resign by the board of trustees of the Genresign by the board of trustees of the General Theological Siminary. Bishop Worthington of Nebraska, Bishop Doane of Albany, Bishop Siymour of Springfield, Ill.; the Rev. Dr. alorgan Dix and other prominent Bishops and digitaries of the Episcopal Church took the ground that Dr. Richey was too aged and inarm to perform properly the cuties of his chair. Charges preferred against him stated that he had remained away from lectures and had been absent from outy for weeks at a time.

remained away from lectures and had been absent from outy for weeks at a time. Dr. Richey, who was ill at home at the time, sent a letter to the meeting of the trustees, saying, "I vill not get out." He detied vigorously that his facult is were inpaired. He assured the trustees that he felt it his duty to continue the work that he had been engaged in fir about a querier of a century at the semilary.

The inclient excied comment all over the country at the time. Dr. Richey had no lack of support. Thirty-five did it y students that were graduated May 14, 1902, from the semilary went in a body to the an and with the '93 decembed kneepe. The program is as lonows:

GEN. HENRY V. BOYNTON DEAD. Notable Career as a Soldier and Newspaper Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 3 .- Gen. Henry Van Hess Boynton, president of the Chicksmauga Park Commission and of the Washington school board, died in Atlantic City, N. J., at noon to-day.

Gen. Boynton had a notable career, both as a soldier and a newspaper correspondent. As a soldier he participated in some of the most stirring events of the civil war, and served again in the war with Spain. As a journalist he was intimately associated with the political affairs of Ohio, his adopted State, and with national shairs as a Washington newspaper correspondent. Since 1865 Gen. Boynton has been engaged in newspaper work in Washington, and for a long time was the correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette, and his political and military contributions to that newspaper attracted attention throughout newspaper attracted attention throughout the country. Subsequent to that time he had been the president of the Chicka-mauga Park Commission and it was large y through his efforts and familiarity with its needs that many of the improvements in that military reservation have been made. Gen. Boynton also took an active interest in District of Columbia affairs, and until recertly was president of the Board of Education, which position he was relinquish on account of compelled to relinquish on account of failing health.

Fitted by education and training for a military career, Gen. Boynton entered the civil war at the beginning of that con-flict, being commissioned Major of the

Gen. Boynton was the author of the most notable of the criticisms called out by Gen. William T. Sherman's "Memoirs." namely, "Sherman's Historical Raid," "The Memoirs in the Light of the Record," "Review Based Upon Compilations From the Files of the War Offics."

The General was a member of the Society of the Army of the Cumberland, was a member and at one time the president of the Griciron Club of Washington and was an intimate friend of the late President McKinley. He was a native of Massa-

McKinley. He was a native of Massa-chusetts, but removed to Ohio when a young man. He was in the seventieth year of his age. His wife and a daughter survive him.

Oblinary Notes.

Capt. Douglass Mitchell Kilpatrick, who was prominent in business and club circles in New Orleans, died there yesterday. He was 61 years old and a native of New Orleans. He entered the Confederate Army at the age of 13, and served with distinction throughout the war. Later he was a member of the firm of Jackson & Kilpatrick, dealers in salt, and finally became the head of the house. In 1874 he commanded the company of the White League which defeated the State millitia and police under Gen. Longstreet and overthrew the Republican State government. He was appointed United States Sub-Treasurer by Cleveland in 1884, holding the office for five years. He was president of the Chamber of Commerce for ten years, and was also organizer and director of the New Orleans carnival and the Mardi Gras parade.

Promoter Scullin Here Working on Comprehensive Arbitration Scheme. The National Peace Association, a new body having for its object the settlement of strikes and lockouts, which was formed in the West, is now endeavoring to form branches in New York and surrounding towns. P. H. Scullin of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, who started the association, is now in this city and will begin work in Manhattan this It is proposed that part of the plan for bringing about universal industrial peace will be the passage of a bill by every State Legislature creating a "Board of Arbitration and Conciliation for the determination of differences, commonly called labor troubles, between employers and employees."

It is not proposed that the National Peace
Association will conflict with the Civic Association will conflict with the Civic Federation or become a rival of that body. In fact, Scullin last week visited the head-quarters of the Civic Federation in this city and sought the advice of Ralph M. Easley, chairman of its executive board. Scullin comes to New York armed with quantities of literature about his plan.

He holds that there is room for many arbitration boards, and in one of his printed statements which was in circulation yesteraday he declares that the sconer employers arbitration boards, and in one of his printed statements which was in circulation yesterday he declares that the sconer employers and employees get it into their heads that strikes and lockouts are played out the better. He says that there are many employees who are willing to treat their employers fairly and equitably, but they are handicapped by the work of labor agitators who create disturbances in the labor world for their own benefit.

By his plan of creating State boards, the Mayor, if a lockout or strike on a large scale was feared, could call on the State board to investigate conditions, and if it was asked to intervene by both sides its decision would be binding for a year. Though this is in a measure compulsory arbitration, no penalties are provided.

Some of the Western unions balked at Scullin's plan at once because he brings Chinese workmen under its provisions. The same objection is raised against it here, and, besides, the present State Board of Arbitration of New York is a highly unpopular body with the unions. Scullin succeeded last week in forming a branch of the National Peace Association in New Jersey. How many joined it could not be learned. Labor leaders here who were seen yesterday did not take kindly to the idea.

Collins for $120,000. Eight actions for amounts aggregating $120,000, growing out of the collapse of the Fleet Street African Methodist Episcopal Fleet Street African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church on Feb. 27, have been begun in the Supreme Court, Brooklya, against Peter J. Collins the Superintendent of Buildings in that borough. Four of the plaintiffs each sue for $20,000 for the death of relatives and the other four for injuries sustained by themselves. It is alleged on behalf of the plaintiffs that Supt. Collins neglected his duty in failing duly to examine the building and that such examination would have shown the building to be wholly unfit for the purposes for which it was used.
